Van Deerlin Sets Input Meet On Calif. No-Fault Insurance

No-fault insurance may survive or fail in the next few days. It depends on public reaction.

Elsewhere on this page is a story regarding a hearing in San Diego sponsored by U.S. Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin in which the counsel for the House subcommittee on Consumer Protection and Finance, on Tuesday, will hear those who have been had by auto insurance firms.

Those who have been given shoddy or unfair treatment by insurance firms—and we believe their number is legion—should tell it to the counsel. As Van explains, "we've heard from insurance firms and trial lawyers. Now we want to hear from the motorist."

In the balance is the fate of two bills—S. 354 in the Senate and H.R. 9650 in the House. These bills would set standards for federal/no-fault laws and push states to adopt them within a specified time.

In the late 1960's no-fault proponents hailed it as a tool for meaningful reform of the automobile insurance system... a way to compensate accident victims more rapidly and more equitably. It was hoped that within a few years every state would adopt a strong, workable no-fault law.

Unfortunately, it hasn't worked out that way. Since Massachusetts led the way in 1970, only 16 states have enacted true no-fault laws—and most of these are not as effective as they could be. Eight other states have adopted pseudo-no-fault laws, and the other 26 states still bank entirely on the fault system.

This is why federal standards are needed. The bills now pending in Congress would require states to meet such standards. They would do this by enacting laws to provide for adequate benefit levels and put limits on lawsuits that now clog the auto insurance mechanism. No new federal bureaucracy would be needed to enforce the standards. Each state would be free to tailor a no-fault law to its own needs as long as it met the minimum requirements of the federal law.

Under no-fault, accident victims recover their medical and hospital expenses and lost income from their own insurance company—regardless of who was at fault in the accident. By limiting lawsuits to cases involving serious injury, it makes more dollars available to pay for broader benefits that are easier to obtain.

No-fault affects only the personal injury portion of the motorists insurance premium; property damage coverages—the larger part of the premium—aren't touched by it.

Potential premium increases or decreases under no-fault are so small they're insignificant. The true test is one of value... and no fault gets an "A" on that test. Best estimates are that 60 to 75 per cent more people would be paid for their losses under no-fault.

The no-fault concept is endorsed by virtually every segment of society—business and labor leaders, public officials, consumer organizations, educators, the press and others.

The significant exceptions are personal injury lawyers—who would have to seek new sources of income under a no-fault system—and a segment of insurance industry. Their opposition has been effective in slowing down the drive for reform.

Your report to Van Deerlin's emissary Tuesday would help get no-fault on the federal track.

While it is not mentioned, it is nonetheless so that much of the money that has gone to fat-cat trial lawyers will go to motorists involved in a costly accident under the no-fault plan.

Ronald Reagan Says:

"There is nothing wrong with our system. Somebody is handling the machinery wrong."

Date Set for Hearing on High School Smoking

The Grossmont Union High School District Governing Board has reserved 40 minutes of its meeting schedule on December 15 for a public hearing regarding the new state regulations of student smoking at high schools.

Supt. Leland B. Newcomer announced the hearing date at a Monday board meeting, commenting that the session would allow the general public an opportunity to express opinions on the new state legislation, S.B. 171.

The law allows school boards in California to decide their own policies regarding student smoking.

Students and Citizens Advisory Councils in the Grossmont District have been gathering data and plan to present it to the Governing Board.

Individuals wishing to address the Board on this issue will be restricted to a three-minute time period.

The Trustees will meet at Valhalla High School, rather than at the District Board Room, because a large audience is anticipated.

Market Reopens

Lemon Grove's Mayfair food market reopens this week, 11 weeks after a fire forced its closing.

Fire broke out in the store's produce stock room in the early morning hours of September 4. Structural damage to the rear of the building and heavy smoke and heat damage resulted.

An investigation into the possibility of arson was inconclusive, a Lemon Grove Fire official said.

The store, at 7663 Broadway, has been completely remodeled.

Van Deerlin Asks Public To Air Insurance Squawks

Many people have sad stories to tell about their automobile insurance. Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego, wants to hear some of them.

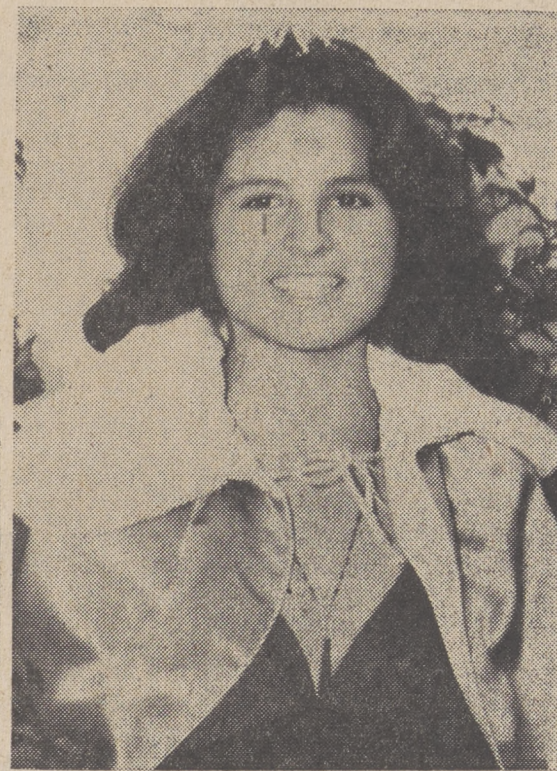

Van Deerlin is sending Peter Kinzler, counsel for the House subcommittee on Consumer Protection and Finance, to San Diego November 25 for a series of meetings on pending no-fault auto insurance legislation. The bill has been approved by the subcommittee, which Van Deerlin chairs, and now awaits action by the full House Commerce Committee.

"We've heard at great length from insurers and trial lawyers," Van Deerlin said. "Now I'd like some input from the motorists most immediately involved—and most likely to be victimized by existing auto insurance methods."

The bill would not cover property damage. Under its provisions, persons killed or injured in auto accidents would

Five Robberies in Three Days Keep Cops Busy on Broadway

November may go down in Lemon Grove history for its record-setting "Armed Robbery Week" which was marked here three days in November.

If it was planned that way, it was a success. But the sheriff's office here called it "circumstantial."

There were five armed robberies—all on Broadway on three consecutive days. If they are viewed with an eye toward financial gain—forget it! They could have made more money by waiting on tables. And their only hazard as a waiter would have been spilling hot soup down their trousers.

The schedule:

November 3—two robberies: 7:15 p.m. Yellow Front, 7667 Broadway.

A white male, about 23, selected miscellaneous articles of clothing and asked the cashier "What would you do if you were robbed?"

When the young lady ignored the question the suspect with his hand in his pocket is reported as having said, "Open your register and give me your money!"

She complied but the suspect said, "You don't have any tens or twenties, so forget it."

He paid for his purchases and walked out.

Later, he was apprehended and transported to County Jail but charges were later dropped against the man.

About a half hour later, same evening, a white male, about 30, flourished a silver revolver which he had in a folded newspaper in the Lemon Grove Rexall Drug store at 7785 Broadway and demanded money and drugs.

He demanded specific drugs such as demoral and morphine among others. The clerk complied after explaining that some of the drugs demanded were not carried in stock.

An undetermined amount of money and some drugs were given to the robber who ran from the store.

A wig was found in an alley behind the store a few minutes later when sheriff's deputies responded to the call. The wig makes the subject more difficult to describe. He had eyes according to Grace Cordoza, a clerk and Ralph Carson, a pharmacist who were working in the back of the store.

November 4—2 robberies: 7 p.m. Pit Stop, 7081 Broadway.

A white male, about 25, 140 pounds, wearing a ponytail, walked to the window at which motorists pay for their gasoline and told Becky Ann Nelson, 18, of Dartmoor dr.,

Lemon Grove, "I have a gun in my pocket. I want the money in the cash register!"

Sheriff's records indicate that she gave him $25 after which he fled on foot.

About 10:30, Good Guys Beer Bar, 7340 Broadway.

A white male, about 26, 5'8", 160 pounds, slipped onto a bar stool at Good Guys, a beer saloon at 7340 Broadway and ordered a beer. He struck up a conversation with Cindi Jean Kottke, the manager. After drinking the beer he pulled a chrome revolver from a shoulder holster and said, "Be cool, Cindi! Take all the money out of the register or I'll use this (revolver)!"

She gave him $125. He took the money and fled without even paying for the beer.

November 5—one robbery: 9 p.m. Grove Liquor Store, 7245 Broadway.

Two black males each weighing about 155 pounds; one about 30 the other about 42 years of age, ordered Richard Scott Bouton, the clerk of Vista ave., Lemon Grove, at gunpoint, to lie on the floor. They then removed the cash box from the register which contained an estimated $60.

The gun was a .38 cal. revolver with a six inch barrel. They fled with the money.

With robberies so frequent, it may be that Broadway may some day be renamed Cicero after the Illinois city famed for robberies and killings.

Helix areas.

The final plan, once adopted by the County Board of Supervisors, will become the area's guideline reference for future land development.

Lemon Grove Optometrist Honored By Colleagues With Getman Award

A Lemon Grove optometrist was named recently to receive one of her profession's most distinguished honors, the G. N. Getman Award, an international honor.

It was bestowed upon Dr. Amorita Treganza at a presentation ceremony October 30 in San Francisco attended by over 500 representatives of the College of Optometrists in Vision Development (COVD), the award's presenters.

The Getman Award is presented annually to recognized individuals who have made significant contributions to the field of vision development.

Dr. Treganza was chosen by a group of past recipients of the Getman Award, a tradition. The past recipients were reportedly unanimous in their choice.

Pioneer Family

Dr. Treganza comes from a family whose local history dates back to the turn of the century. Her grandfather settled in Lemon Grove in 1898, bringing his family from Colorado.

Dr. Treganza was born and raised in Lemon Grove and has been practicing optometry here 32 years.

She graduated from San Diego State in 1935 and from the Los Angeles College of Optometry in 1944.

After college she has made regular appearances and presentations from the late '40s through the '70s at the Pasadena Visual Training Forum, now known as the Southern California Vision Training Forum.

Many Projects

She worked on many projects with Dr. Getman, the award's namesake, during summer seminar sessions at the Experimental Psychology lab at Ohio State University where, she says, she developed her thinking and her model of vision.

She became the first female optometrist appointed as sponsor for the Optometric Extension Program (O.E.P.) Assistants' group meeting with the Pasadena Visual Training Forum.

Along with husband Dr. Lloyd Adams, she wrote several chapters of the first "Visual Training at Work" series appearing in 1951.

Dr. Amorita Treganza

From 1962 to 1964 she wrote a 22-chapter series for the O.E.P. Assistants' courses on vision development tests. She also wrote a chapter on "Perceptual Training" for a book published in 1969.

In addition to her writing, she has conducted successful lecture tours for the O.E.P. Congress.

Trigger

Dr. Treganza, affectionately known as "Trigger," lives with her husband in Lemon Grove. The couple also own two homes in Baja California.

Their concern for Mexican natives who could not otherwise afford vision care was the touchstone for the development of a samaritan group, made up of physicians, dentists and optometrists who fly to various villages and volunteer their services. The pair have provided care for nearly 400 patients out of their own pockets.

A Doer

Dr. Treganza describes herself "a doer, not an intellectual."

Other achievements: Co-authored a "Vision Screening Manual" for the

S.D. County Optometric Society; authored a handbook of installations in 1968; was a charter member of the National Society for Visual and Perceptual Training and served as its vice president; and became first president of the College of Optometrists in Vision Development in 1970.

In October she accepted an appointment as Sponsor for the O.E.P. Southern California Vision Therapists.

Study on Eating Shows Obese Tend Not to Change Old Habits

Obese people tend to eat more high-calorie, low-nutrient foods than people of normal weight.

This may not be the most revealing conclusion ever derived from a study on eating habits, but one conducted recently led to an interesting conclusion: overweight people are often unable or unwilling to keep track of the kinds and amounts of foods they eat.

During a study at a student cafeteria on the UC Berkeley campus, obese persons tended to select more high-calorie, low-nutrient foods than did those of normal weight.

Results of the survey were discussed in a recent issue of the "Journal of the American Dietetic Assn."

The survey found that of the approximately 700 men and women tested, those classified as obese tended to select more pasta, starchy vegetables, rolls, desserts, gravies and soft drinks than those of other body builds.

Normal weight people more often selected meat, eggs, cheese, milk, non-starchy vegetables and fruit juices.

The obese not only selected more foods high in calories in proportion to the nutrient contribution, they also chose larger quantities.

The study also showed that tall people chose more servings than short people and men took more food than women. There was no significant difference in the number of servings selected by subjects over 30 years of age and those under 30.

Planned Parenthood Gets Larger Quarters

The capacity at the present center is 9,000.

Theo Alcantara, silver medal award winner of the "Dimitri Mitropoulos International Conducting Competition" in New York, has been named guest conductor for the production.

Lovely young American soprano Kathryn Bouleyn will sing the role of the nymph Rusalka. A recent winner in the Metropolitan Opera National Auditions, Miss Bouleyn has appeared on over a dozen occasions with the Philadelphia Orchestra. Dramatic mezzo-soprano Gwendolyn Killebrew will take a double role playing the Foreign Princess, as well as singing the role of the witch, Jezibaba.

A limited number of tickets are available at the Civic Theatre Box Office, Metro Ticketron Agencies, Highlander Men's Stores, and all Sears stores.

This Week's RECIPE

Old Fashioned Pumpkin Pie

No Thanksgiving Day dinner is complete without a hefty slice of Pumpkin pie, preferably with whipped cream or a mouthwatering scoop of ice cream on top. Ready-made pies are quick and convenient, but they never quite taste as good as the old fashioned kind.

Home cooks who don't already have a home recipe for this Thanksgiving delight stashed in their recipe card file should give this traditional recipe a try.

PUMPKIN PIE

- 1 1/2 cups pumpkin (1 can)
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 teas. salt
- 1/4 teas. ground ginger
- 1/4 ground nutmeg
- 1/4 teas. ground cloves
- 1 teas. ground cinnamon
- 1 teas. all-purpose flour
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 cup whole milk
- 1/2 teas. vanilla extract
- 1 pastry shell

Combine pumpkin, sugar, salt, spices and flour in large mixing bowl. Add eggs and stir well. Add milk and vanilla extract and mix. Pour into pastry-lined deep-dish pie pan or cake pan. Bake in pre-heated oven at 425° for 15 minutes; reduce heat to 350° and bake 35 minutes longer or until filling is set. To test filling, insert knife. Pumpkin will not stick to knife if it is set.

PASTRY SHELL

- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 3/4 teas. salt
- 2/3 cup plus 2 tbsps. solid shortening
- 3 tbsps. water

Mix flour and salt in large mixing bowl. Cut in shortening with pastry blender until chunks are pea sized. Add water in droplets while stirring mixture. Handle the dough as little as possible to ensure a flaky crust. When water is added, press dough into a ball, press down and form a thick disc on a floured piece of waxed paper and roll out with rolling pin. Carefully slip the dough into the pie pan and remove waxed paper. Shape into pan and even the edges.

Opera 'Rusalka' Stars Soprano

American soprano Kathryn Bouleyn will appear in the title role of "Rusalka," the San Diego Opera's production slated for December 3, 5, 7, and 9 at the Civic Theatre.

The American professional premiere of "Rusalka" is presented at 8 p.m. on December 3. The opera will begin at 2:30 p.m. December 7 and at 7 p.m. December 9. A student performance for elementary pupils is scheduled for December 1. All productions will be sung in English.

Tickets are available at the Civic Theatre Box Office, Highlander Men's Stores, all Sears Stores and Metro-Ticketron Agencies.

Mats Make CIF Playoffs

By Steve De Nunzio
They said it couldn't happen! Those who predicted that Mt. Miguel would finish last in the Grossmont League were dead wrong. Forecasters did not credit the Mt. Miguel Matador football team with CIF (California Intra-scholastic Federal) playoff ability.

The Mats just played football instead of reading the ratings. When the season ended the Mats were tied for second place with El Cajon High. Granite Hills took the league loop.

Mt. Miguel will compete in the CIF playoffs. The reward is the ominous task of meeting the Western League Champions, the Kearny Comets at Mesa College Friday at 8 p.m.

Mt. Miguel's head coach, Dave Ogas, said "Kearny is a big, physical team, a lot like Castle Park." That's not too encouraging for Mt. Miguel fans as Castle Park downed the Matadors 28-6.

Top Players
The Comets have some of the county's top players such as wide receiver Foot Michel and running back Greg Mays. Roy Blakelike and Jimbo Harris also merit attention.

Kearny technically finished the season undefeated. Their one defeat was reversed by an ineligible player on the opposing team.

Although Kearny is favored 6-3, the Mats plan to do more than just show up. Mt. Miguel boasts one of the finest running attacks in the county. There are Junior Tiamalu, a punishing runner; Ed Moore, a back with speed and power, and Bill Stuart, a speedy hole finding runner.

Pro-Athlete/Celebrity Golf Tourney Carded

The First annual Pro-Athlete/Celebrity Golf Tournament has been scheduled for Saturday, December 6 at San Diego Country Estates.

All proceeds will go to the Southern California Kidney Foundation, according to Judy Dalzell and Ned Bodie, tournament directors.

Entry fee is $50 a person which includes a cocktail party Friday night, round of golf, cart, first tee gifts, doorprizes and a banquet Saturday evening.

Spectators are welcome at no charge.

Some of the notables signed up so far include:

Bill Melton, Deron Johnson, Terry Forster and Brian Downing of the Chicago White Sox; Randy Jones and Chris Cannazaro, S.D. Padres; Ed Hermann and Graig Nettles, N.Y. Yankees; Don Sutton, Stuart, by rushing for 1,019 yards this season, broke the school record of 1,004 yards compiled in 1961 by Duane Freeman. Freeman is now the baseball coach at Mt. Miguel. An interesting match-up Friday—Mt. Miguel quarterback Steve Slaters' father is the Comets' head coach.

S.V. Rec. Winners Of Cross Country

In all, 45 youngsters participated.

Mariners to Open 5-Game Homestand Tonight

It's time to separate the talking from the doing and the San Diego Mariners begin a five-game home stand tonight with all intentions on the doing portion.

The Mariners host the Denver Spurs in a WHA clash of Western Division foes. The San Diego Sports Arena face-off is at 7:30.

Following Denver, the Mariners remain home to meet Canadian Division opposition Edmonton, Saturday, and again Tuesday, Quebec, November 27, and Calgary, November 29.

San Diego has been plagued with injuries which have greatly reduced the efficiency of both its offensive and defensive units but can't expect any leniency from the teams coming to the Arena.

Denver is battling to climb out of the West cellar while the Canadian squads are all scrambling for those important points leading to a post-season playoff spot.

Report on Wounded
The Mariners still have winger Brian Morenz sidelined following knee surgery but should begin getting more ice time from defender Mike McMahon, slowed by a bruised instep. In addition, blue

'Toys for Tots' Charity Game Set at Helix

The second annual "Toys for Tots" charity football game will be held Saturday, December 6 at Helix High School in La Mesa. Pre-game activities get under way at 12:30 p.m. with Colonel "Pap-py" Boyington, U.S.M.C., serving as guest of honor.

This year's game features four of the top Junior Pee-Wee football teams in San Diego. They include two teams representing the Alvarado League, and one team each representing the East San Diego and Balboa Leagues. A spectacular half-time show will be presented in addition to a rock concert, featuring the "Crosswinds," following the game.

Admission to the game will be one toy in good condition, one good jacket, or sweater. The activity is being sponsored by the American Legion, Post No. 753 of North Island in cooperation with the Marine Corps Reserves. All proceeds will go to the needy children in the San Diego area.

Tip-Off Night for USD's Hoopsters
USD's basketball team will play a scrimmage game Friday at 8 p.m. as part of the Tip Off Night festivities for the upcoming season. The game will be held at the USD Gymnasium.

Head coach Jim Brovelli, in his third year here at USD, currently has a 27-26 career record. Brovelli hopes to return USD to the NCAA playoffs after a year's absence.

The Toreros 1975-76 season opens against Occidental College November 28.

Students Fast Today

Students at the University of San Diego are fasting today, along with many people all over the world, to demonstrate the needs of the world's hunger-stricken counties.

Students will be collecting money on campus and in the community to be turned in to Oxfam-America, the national coordinating group for the fast. Oxfam-America is the American affiliate of the international Oxford Committee for Famine Relief, begun in England after World War II.

School Bus Signals Explained by CHP

Confusion that exists concerning school buses with flashing red lights isn't confusing at all — if you pay attention.

Motorists must bring their cars to a stop for any school bus that has dual red lights flashing whether a motorist is overtaking the bus from the rear or approaching it from opposite direction, according to the California Highway Patrol.

It is legal to pass a school bus in either direction when red lights are not operating but caution should be exercised.

Each year about 1,100 drivers fail to heed the dual flashing red lights on school buses when CHP units are present. These drivers are cited under the Vehicle Code.

Chargers Seek Turnaround Against League's Best Team

The Chargers and Vikings traveled different highways leading up to their upcoming encounter Sunday in Sunday's NFL "showdown" at Metropolitan Stadium in Bloomington, Minnesota.

San Diego is 0-9
Minnesota is 9-0
Kickoff is 11 a.m. San Diego time.

San Diego won the only NFL game between the teams — 30-14 at San Diego in 1971. The Vikings lead 4-0-1 in pre-season games.

The Vikes are the only undefeated team in the NFL. Under Coach Bud Grant the Vikes also dominate every National Conference statistical record after nine games.

Their log:
Chuck Foreman leads the NFC in rushing with 693 yards; pass receiving with 46 catches for 427 yards, and touchdowns with 11 (six running, five receiving).

Leaders
Fran Tarkenton leads the NFC in passing with 159 completions for 1,853 yards, a 62.1 percentage and 18 touchdowns.

Fred Krause leads the NFL

in interceptions with seven.

Other Vike leaders:

Fred Cox, fourth in kicking with 60 points including 10 for 11 field goals; rookie Neil Clabo, fourth in punting with 40.7 average and Jon Gilliam, seventh in receiving with 32 catches for 547 yards and five touchdowns.

Minnesota ranks third in total offense. When the other team has the ball, the Vikes are first against the rush, first against the pass, and first in total defense.

Happy Sunday afternoon, Tommy Prothro.

The game will be aired over KSDO radio and KGTU 10.

Next week the Chargers have a return game with the Denver Broncos at Denver on Sunday November 30 at 1 p.m.

Can Summer Be Far Behind?

Padres Tip Lid April 9 Against Atlanta Braves

The San Diego Padres open the 1976 season with the Atlanta Braves in San Diego on Friday night, April 9 it was announced this week with the official release of the club's home schedule.

It will mark the third time the Padres have opened with the Braves and the team will put an unblemished mark on the line as the club has never lost an opener to Atlanta. The Padres clubbed the Braves 8-3 in 1970 and fashioned a 6-5 triumph to kick off the 1972 season. Oddly enough, Phil Niekro was the loser both times for Atlanta and, barring an off-season trade or retirement, Niekro could again be on the mound for the Braves.

The Padres will, of course, be playing 81 home games distributed exactly the same as last season. That is three double-headers (Atlanta, Houston and Philadelphia) for a total of 78 actual playing dates.

San Diego will again have a breakdown of 63 night games and 18 day contests, but this season more of the day contests will be during the week. Sunday naturally provides the bulk of the day affairs (13), but the Padres will also play twice on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at 1 p.m. plus a special Saturday 1 p.m. outing. For the first time, the Padres will play every Western Division club at least once in a daytime contest.

As for the schedule as a whole, June will easily be the busiest month for the club as the Padres have 20 games in San Diego Stadium compared to the next highest figure of 13 for May. In fact, the first half of the season is weighed heavily in favor of home games with 47 and 34 set for after the All-Star break.

The lightest month of the year for the Padres is April as only 11 home games are scheduled.

Oddly enough, Eastern Division clubs make up most of the early home schedule as San Diego will not face defending World Champion Cincinnati until May 21-23 or the Dodgers until May 24-26.

F. Ferguson, PGA liaison; Jim Fox, advance ticket sale; Bob Fulton, starters; Art Harris, amateur activities; Les Herling, photography.

Also, Adah Usrey, executive secretary; G. E. Vinson, program coordinator; and A. E. Wright, marshals.

Co-directors are Kenneth Blucher and Dick Bowen, transportation; Doris Boyar and Shirley Casper, wives' activities; Sgt. C. T. Martin and Lt. Ron Seden, police traffic liaison; and Claude Waymire, amateur activities.

Assistant directors are Robert Boyd and William Randall, amateur activities; Bailey Gallison, promotion; Bill Myers, Pro-Am registration; Don Rodvold, course and grounds; John Townsend, house operations; and Dick Zumwalt, medical.

Committee members at large are Scott Gregory, Art McArthur, Harry Shannon and Bob Zumwalt.

USD's Season 2-7; Coach Logan Quits

USD's football team closed its 1975 season on a down note Saturday, losing to St. Mary's Gaels 18-0.

The Toreros finished the season with a 2-7 record, making head coach Dick Logan's two year record 5-15.

Logan resigned Monday. His resignation was accepted with regret by U.S.D. president Dr. A. E. Hughes.

CHP Project Cuts Auto Theft Rate

A decrease in auto thefts and an increase in recoveries in the second year of the Highway Patrol's vehicle theft control project saved Californians an estimated $9.5 million, Commissioner Glen Craig reported.

In fiscal 1974, the project's first year, Craig said, 136,533 vehicle thefts were recorded. In fiscal 1975, the number dropped to 130,196, a reduction of 6387 vehicles and a saving of about $7.5 million.

Craig said that 1548 more stolen vehicles were recovered during fiscal 1975 than in fiscal 1974 and that their value was about $1.8 million.

"Our recovery rate increased by 5.2 percent," Craig said, from 81.9 percent to 87.1. We hope to get that up over 90 percent."

The vehicle theft control project is a three-year federally-assisted program in which an augmented CHP vehicle theft section furnishes information and coordination to local agencies in combatting California's $100 million-a-year auto theft business.

S.D. State Headed For 'Superconference?'

A new proposal by the NCAA Council and the NCAA Executive Committee may propel San Diego State University into extremely heady company.

The Council and Committee are supporting the recommendation of the NCAA Reorganization Committee to split the present Division I into two divisions with the top 78 schools forming a new Division I.

The new Division, to be called the "Super Conference," would include San Diego State University.

Jobless Numbers Cut By 3/10 Per Cent

California's unemployment rate dropped from 10.3 percent in September to 10.0 percent in October, it was announced by the State's Employment Development Dept. Nonagricultural wage and salary employment (which comprises more than 90 percent of all employment) registered a net gain of 13,400 jobs, rising from 7,863,000 in September to 7,876,400 in October.

The Federal Government announced that national unemployment rose from 8.3 to 8.6 percent in the same period.

The Super Conference would include the nation's top seven collegiate conferences — the Big 10, Southeastern, Southwest, Big 8, Atlantic Coast, Western Athletic and Pacific 8.

Also included are the top independents — Notre Dame, Penn State, Pittsburgh, Army, Navy, Syracuse, Boston College.

Session Teaches TA Training for Kids

"Teaching Transactional Analysis to Children," a workshop for educators, counselors and parents, will be offered at the University of San Diego tomorrow and Saturday.

The workshop will teach participants how to assist youngsters in becoming better acquainted with themselves, improving their interpersonal relationships, and in building up their inner sense of well-being and self-worth.

Instructors of the session will be Dr. Allyn M. Freed and Mrs. Margaret Freed.

The workshop is set Friday 5 to 9 p.m. and Saturday 9-5 in DeSales Hall. Call the USD School of Education for registration information.

lege, West Virginia, Florida State, Miami, South Carolina, Virginia Tech, Tulane, Air Force, Memphis State, Georgia Tech, Utah State and, of course, SD State U.

The NCAA will vote on the proposal in January when the group meets for a convention in St. Louis. The vote on reorganization will probably come on January 16-17.

Long Beach To Close Aztecs Grid Season Here Saturday

Two of the top individual performers in college football will be on display Saturday night when the S.D. State Aztecs host Long Beach State at 7:30 in San Diego Stadium.

The game, which is the season finale for both teams, will feature the nation's No. 3 rusher in Long Beach's Herb Lusk and the No. 1 passer in San Diego's Craig Penrose.

Lusk has paced the 49ers to an 8-2 mark and 3-1 in the PCAA with 1413 yards rushing on 286 carries. He trails only Ricky Bell of USC and Tony Dorsett of Pitt in season rushing.

Penrose has completed 174 of 305 passes for 2409 yards this season. He is tied with Gene Swick of Toledo with an average of 17.4 completions per game.

Penrose is also second in total offense with an average 223.4 yards per game while Swick leads with 237.2 yards. Swick concludes his season Saturday night with a home game against Kent State.

Randy Jones Faces Bobby Riggs...in Tennis

Randy Jones and Tug McGraw will have a tennis racquet instead of a baseball when they face Bobby Riggs, the man with all the shots and then some, in a special match Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Sea Bluff Beach & Racquet Club in Leucadia.

The public is invited and admittance is free.

Jones, who won 20 games for the Padres last season and was second in the balloting for the coveted Cy Young award, isn't exactly a stranger to the tennis court. Neither is McGraw, a World Series star for the Mets and regarded as one of baseball's premier relief pitchers now with the Phillies.

But both figure to be hard pressed to handle Riggs even two-on-one.

"I expect I'll give them some sort of a handicap," said Riggs, a resident of Sea Bluff which may be reached from highway 5 by taking the La Costa exit then west to Pacific Coast Highway and left one-quarter mile to the entrance.

Jones and McGraw might counter by pitching, instead of serving, to Riggs.

Both major league stars and Riggs will remain to sign autographs after the exhibition.

LM Chamber Opposes Drew, Funke Recall

The Board of Directors of the La Mesa Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously Thursday to oppose the effort being made by the Greater Grossmont Federation of Teachers to recall Trustees Joseph Drew and William Funke from the Grossmont Union High School Board.

The Chamber, in a statement proclaiming support for the two trustees, said that "the voting records of Trustees Drew and Funke which have evidenced a concern for the citizens who pay the bills for our educational institutions, as well as the quality of education itself, do not constitute a violation of that trust."

That subcommittee considers all budget items relating to expenditures of the Department of Health and Welfare including state expenditures on Medi-Cal, welfare and state allocations to counties for the administration of these programs.

Then Assemblyman Chacon announced the appointment of his brother, Mark Chacon, as financial and management consultant for his next year's race for re-election for a fourth term to the Assembly.

"My brother, Pete, will probably face tough opposition in the primary and in the general this time around," Mark said. "I intend to lend all my talents and energy to ensure his re-election," he said.

Mark Chacon replaces Tony Rios who has assumed a new position which requires extensive traveling.

Year's Last V.F.W. Teen Dance Nov. 28

There will be no V.F.W. Teen dance in December.

The year's finale will be Friday, November 28 with music by Art Spencer.

Menu will be hamburgers and soft drinks.

Funds for the November dance came partially from a car wash and a V.F.W. Auxiliary booth.

Sponsors will be contacted during the next few weeks to provide cooperation for next year's dances, according to Dick Bales, V.F.W. dance chairman.

"There has been a minimum number of problems at the dances. We cleared out the troublemakers long ago. The youngsters who attend are nice ones who appreciate the effort. We'd like to keep the project going because it keeps that many youngsters off the streets on Friday night," Bales said.

Those who want to take part can reach Bales at 461-5877 or 461-6181.

LM Chamber Opposes Drew, Funke Recall

The Board of Directors of the La Mesa Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously Thursday to oppose the effort being made by the Greater Grossmont Federation of Teachers to recall Trustees Joseph Drew and William Funke from the Grossmont Union High School Board.

The Chamber, in a statement proclaiming support for the two trustees, said that "the voting records of Trustees Drew and Funke which have evidenced a concern for the citizens who pay the bills for our educational institutions, as well as the quality of education itself, do not constitute a violation of that trust."

Changes Made in Off-Road Vehicle Usage Procedures

Some changes have been made in the procedure for obtaining off-road vehicle permits. Basic procedures remain the same, but significant changes have been made regarding fees, safety requirements for road crossings, first aid capability of permittees and other aspects of event management, a spokesman for the Bureau of Land Management said recently.

The revisions apply to both competitive and non-competitive off-road vehicle events.

An "off-road vehicle event" is now defined as "one where 25 or more vehicles compete on a defined course, or travel off existing roads and trails with a common purpose or destination, or travel on existing roads and trails but require management control because of health and safety factors, potential conflicts of uses or resource protection considerations."

Other Changes

Among other principal changes:

New forms are to be used for applications and permits. The advance application period for a permit has been changed from 80 to 90 days.

BLM District Managers have the option of allowing sponsors to apply for a single permit covering the sponsor's events for a period of up to one year.

Stricter safety rules include a requirement that motorcycles be pushed across public roads that intersect the course. A permittee who does not comply with safety requirements, including flagmen at road crossings, can be denied future permits for two years or more at the District Manager's discretion.

Copies of the new procedures may be obtained from: by writing the District Manager, Bureau of Land Management, 1695 Spruce st., Riverside, CA 92507.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

The Sails have been lowered and the San Diego ABA ship struck a mortal blow. The ill wind bringing the damage continues to blow across sports decks everywhere.

And this bluster figures to benefit only a handful of grasping hardnosed tycoons whose only god is money. Sinking the Sails is only a symptom—the beginning of what is to come.

San Diego does not control its own destiny. It is not a sovereign city, to be left to its own design, its mistakes and its accomplishments.

It is a territory. In the world of professional basketball, it is held under the stewardship of Jack Kent Cooke, the owner of the famous Inglewood Cook House, also known as the Fabulous Forum.

Cooke is also the lord and master of the Inglewood Lakers of the National Basketball Assn. and has, since Bob Breitbard sold the Rockets to Houston, claimed San Diego as part of his exclusive NBA territory.

Sails owners Frank Goldberg and Bud Fisher say they dissolved the club after they were informed San Diego would not be part of any merger with the NBA. At the time of their purchase, they were assured that San Diego would be a viable part of any marriage between the ABA and the NBA, they said.

But the ABA is hurting and Jack Kent Cooke carries clout in the wigwam of the senior circuit. And while he doesn't live here, doesn't pay rent here, or even play exhibition games here, he "owns" our town in eyes of National Basketball Assn. demigods.

Now, of course, Jack Kent Cooke doesn't plan on coming to San Diego to play in the Sports Arena while he owns so fabulous a hall as the Inglewood Cooke House.

The bottom line in this deal is pay television. Cooke claims San Diego as his exclusive pro-basketball territory and wants us in the position to have to pay to see his Lakers in action. And there isn't going to be anything else in the way, pro-basketballwise.

The NBA, holding the merger aloft like a carrot, will lop off two more ABA clubs, then in the next year or so, take in the rest of the league and once again run a one man store, pay players what the owners think they're worth and laugh all the way to the bank.

Of course, they'll never admit it, but NBA headquarters would be a natural for the Watergate Building in Washington.

And that is just the beginning. If pay-television works for pro basketball, and it's already working for movies and sports events on cable channels, think of the interest such an arrangement will create in the offices of the National Football and National Hockey Leagues.

You can see their mouths water at the thought. No more free games. Everything paid for, just like season tickets. Let's see now, 50 million sets tuned into the Super Bowl at a dollar apiece... Hummmmm.

Such thinking makes the Jack Kent Cookes of the world turn green with envy. They worship at the altar of pay-home-television. Stake out your territory, plug in your home TVing and watch the money roll in.

Upstarts who try to move in on the territory will be treated just like claim jumpers of the old west. Hang 'em. One way or another get rid of 'em. No competition allowed.

And if other cities happen to be in your claim area, so what. Who do they think they are? It's your territory, as measured by TV signal coming over a cable. You own the only game in all your towns.

So the Sails were sacrificed, and if peace is to come to hockey, the Mariners may become a casualty (Cooke owns the Inglewood Kings, too.)

Then there's the Rams. And the Dodgers. Sound far-fetched? Just let the Chargers and the Padres move and find out. Only the Aztecs are safe. Maybe.

The Sails were killed off, but they didn't die alone. Some fine people passed out of the picture with the execution. And there doesn't seem to be one damn thing anybody can do about it.

Probation Dept. Seeks Big House

The County is looking for a residential area building containing 20,000 square feet of space.

It will house the County's Probation Department Work Furlough Center which must accommodate 100 persons.

The building must have been built after 1940 and located on a plot at least two acres in size to provide recreational activity space for the residents. Space for recreational facilities and central dining are desired within the building.

Parking space for 40 vehicles is needed. Maintenance will be provided by the lessor with the County providing janitorial services.

Public transportation within a quarter mile with sidewalk access is required.

Written offers should be made by December 1 addressed to County of San Diego Department of Real Property, Attn: H. G. Wolff, 5555 Overland ave., San Diego, 92123.

Phone contact may be made at 565-5208 or 565-5217.

The 42-hour marathon of early radio programs, which ended Sunday November 9, at midnight, was the station's first attempt at a membership drive.

The discussion will concern the Rodda Act which recognizes a new approach in collective bargaining for the classified employees of public schools in California.

The new law becomes effective July 1, next year and recognizes certified school employees organizations the right to "meet and negotiate" with school officials on wages, hours and other terms of employment.

Panel members of the forum are:

Dr. Thomas A. Shannon, deputy superintendent, Administration, S.D. Unified School District;

Garland P. Peed, Director Management Services, S.D. College District;

Dr. John Vugrin, Assistant Superintendent for Personnel, Chula Vista Elementary School District;

William J. Bauer, Attorney for the Classified Employees Assn. (CEA);

John W. Hammond, President, CEA.

Invitations have been distributed county-wide according to Dodge H. Dean, a representative of CEA.

FELLOWS — One of the highest levels of service Rotarians can achieve is that of a Paul Harris Fellow. Three such Fellows are members of the Lemon Grove Rotary Club. They are Drs. Sam Smith and Myron Fessler (left), and John Stienbeck (right). The articles of recognition are being presented by Glenn Murdock, Rotary District Governor. The newly selected Fellows have contributed $1,000 or more to the Rotary Foundation — joining Rotarians in some 150 countries sponsoring talented young people in travels to foreign countries where they operate under the canopy of Rotary Clubs in those countries.

While there, they tell about their native country. When they return they make visits to local Rotary clubs. The project has proven one of the better ways of establishing a better understanding on a people-to-people basis.

The Dancers are all teenagers who perform authentic Aztec dances which they have been taught in their homes beginning at six or seven years of age. The dances are passed on from generation to generation dating back as far as 1,000 years.

Home Ransacked

Burglars ransacked the home of Robert K. Weidner at 1426 La Corta, Lemon Grove while he was at work, he reported to sheriff's deputies about 11:15 p.m. October 31.

Missing was $100 in cash; 20 silver certificates; 30 nickels and 40 zinc pennies. Face value was about $122.

More Seniors, Chronically Ill Urged to Get Flu Immunity Shots

Phase one of this year's countywide flu immunization program was highly successful, according to the County of San Diego Dept. of Public Health. The program is sponsored by the San Diego County Medical Society, the Health Dept. and numerous community groups.

"Nearly 16,000 senior citizens and persons with chronic diseases were protected against influenza during the initial five-day campaign," according to Dr. Donald Ramras, acting director of public health. "Between October 20 and 24 twenty-one special mass clinics were held, offering flu shots without charge.

"Last year in a similar, but month-long effort, some 20,000 persons were immunized."

"Those not yet protected can still be immunized at no charge during phase two of the program," Dr. Ramras noted.

No Charge

"Flu immunizations are available without charge at all clinics through November." Interested persons may find the location of the nearest clinic by calling a public health center, listed in the telephone book under San Diego County, Health Department, or by calling 236-2705 weekdays.

All senior citizens 60 years of age or older and persons of any age with a chronic disease are eligible to be immunized through the program. Chronic diseases include those of the heart, lungs, bronchial tubes, kidneys and metabolism, such as diabetes. The vaccine is being furnished by the State Department of Health under provisions of the Thurman Act.

People in both groups should be protected since they are most susceptible to the complications of influenza, Dr. Ramras said. The complications include prolonged, severe illness and even death.

He noted that eligible persons should be immunized annually because strains of the flu virus change from year to year.

Burglar Gets TV

A thief entered an apartment at 773 King st., in Lemon Grove on November 8 and took $800 worth of belongings from Marco Anthony Gonzaba while he was away.

Included in the loss was a stereo receiver, a Sony color teevee, two Apollo speakers, two racketball rackets, a Yashika 35mm camera and a silver bracelet.

Entry was made by cutting the screen of a bedroom window.

Blast Damage Small

A customer of the Lemon Grove Jack in the Box dropped an explosive device in the restaurant's trash container about 11 p.m. November 9, the night manager told sheriff's deputies.

The device went off after the suspect drove away in an auto which was described to officers.

No one was injured but $200 damage was done to the container and a window, it was reported.

If you think life is a real pain, imagine what it must be like for her.

Take a deep breath and be thankful you are in good health. There are plenty of people who are not so fortunate...like those who suffer from arthritis, heart disease, cancer, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis or cystic fibrosis, to name a few. For them, life gets more painful with each passing day.

But for these people, life is not without hope...not without help.

There is hope in the medical research which will one day search out cures or controls for these and other crippling and life-threatening diseases. There is help in the patient services available in our community for those in need.

There is both hope and help for those in need through United Way/CHAD. The agencies of United Way and CHAD provide funds for medical research and patient services.

You can help too, by giving generously.

There were scratches on the doors, hood, trunk and fenders produced by a broken glass bottle. The windshield was smashed, too, he reported.

The damage occurred at night when the garage was closed.

More Homes for Pets, But Still Too Many

The County Vet released the activity report of the Animal Regulation Division for the four-week period September 20-October 17. Figures showed increased percentages of pets redeemed or adopted, but also indicated that a serious problem with pet overpopulation continues.

In that four-week period 3,403 pets were impounded, up 4 per cent from the previous report. 2,377 were destroyed, a 1 per cent increase.

Other figures:
4,364 requests for service, up 31%; 2,556 strays impounded, 847 relinquished by owner; 779 redeemed; 133 adopted; 114 to medical research; 297 citations written and 460 quarantine bites reported.

Golden Rule Says Mortuaries Rank High

The International Order of the Golden Rule, an Association of approximately 1300 funeral directors, surveys families served by its members to determine their satisfaction with the service provided, it was announced by Roger Ytterberg, Executive, Director of the group.

The association contacted 83,979 families during 1975, Ytterberg said. Of 42,490 responses received, 41,519 (97.7 per cent) were completely favorable, he added.

Members are asked to furnish a list of every service so that all families can be contacted. Through these contacts the association can determine whether the member continually lives up to the high standards required for membership in the Order.

Any criticism is immediately called to the attention of the member. This aids the consumer in resolving a misunderstanding that may exist.

The local member of the International Order of the Golden Rule is Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary.

Small Businesses Hit Hard By Crime, BoA Report Says

Criminals of all types are taking a more sizable toll on small businesses, a study by Bank of America's "Small Business Reporter," indicates. In 1974, American businesses lost $20.3 billion to criminals, a jump of 30 per cent in three years.

The figures represent only the tip of the iceberg, the report maintains; many crimes go unreported and are not accounted for in any calculations.

"The small firm," the bank says, "is 35 times as likely to become a victim of crime as the business with receipts of $5 million or more." According to the Small Business Administration, these losses cause 30 to 40 per cent of small business failures.

Retailing is the hardest hit, the report states. Its losses for 1974 reached $5.8 billion — 20 per cent of the business crime bill for the year. The nature of retailing leaves it wide open to attack from many sides; delivery personnel, con artists and employees by day; burglars, robbers and vandals by night.

Billion Dollar Losses

To the small store, burglary represents the greatest external threat. Last year, the bank reports, burglars absconded with $1.3 billion worth of merchandise.

Robberies, though accounting for only 3 per cent of all business losses, hold real terror for retailers, sometimes resulting in serious injury or even death if a weapon is used.

The most commonplace crime is shoplifting, says the report. In 1974, an estimated 140 million such incidents depleted merchant's inventories by $1.6 billion. Most of these crimes are perpetrated by amateurs who steal if the opportunity presents itself.

Businesses often pay a heavy price for permitting customers to pay for purchases with a check. Last year, bogus checks cost merchants between $1 billion and $2 billion, the report claims.

Startlingly, the report warns that internal theft accounts for most business crime losses. The Department of Commerce estimates that employees are responsible for up to 80 per cent of all retail shortages.

$5.3 Million Aid For County Transit

A $5.3 million program of the Comprehensive Planning Organization (CPO) has been approved by the federal Urban Mass Transit Administration (UMTA).

The program represents the first time that federal funds have been authorized to meet operating expenses of local transit operators in urban areas of the United States.

In May, CPO was designated by UMTA as the agency responsible for developing the program in cooperation with transit operators in the San Diego Region.

The $5.3 million is the first year's allocation of a total of $35 million in UMTA funds for the San Diego urbanized area 1975-1980.

Plus Tax and Tip

An average dinner eaten away from home on the West Coast cost $3.95, according to a professional survey recently made.

Adult Ed. Director Wants Funding Based on Programs

Donald R. McNeil, director of the California Post-secondary Education Commission, called for fundamental changes in the State's approach to adult education recently.

McNeil proposed that the State base its funding on programs rather than on students.

Currently, he explained, the allocation of funds to high school and Community College districts is determined by the age of the student and the number of hours he is enrolled per week, without regard to the kinds of courses or programs being taken.

Based on Priorities

If the new method of State funding were adopted, programs would be placed in one of several categories. Each category would then be funded at a level which reflects the State's educational priorities.

McNeil emphasized that the Legislature should designate who has the primary responsibility for offering programs in each of the categories. He recommended that adult basic education be assigned to unified school districts. All other programs, with the exception of those at the upper division and professional levels, should be offered by the Community Colleges.

McNeil noted that these proposals had not been adopted officially by the Commission. He explained that they were preliminary findings and conclusions from a staff study on adult education that would be submitted to the Commission in February.
